Awards Publication Advertising

Submission Deadline: September 20, 2025

Each December, the Pennsylvania Medical Society publishes its annual Awards Publication, a printed piece mailed directly to our physician members across the Commonwealth. This publication showcases the physicians driving excellence in medicine and honors our annual award recipients.

Health systems and medical organizations often use this opportunity to highlight their awardees with congratulatory ads—demonstrating their pride in these accomplishments and reinforcing their commitment to leadership in patient care.

We invite you to celebrate your honoree and showcase your organization's dedication to excellence in health care—take advantage of our special discounted advertising rates today.
