Fulfilling a Dream...

The Endowment for South Asian Students of Indian Descent (ESASID) scholarship fund was made possible by contributions from Drs. Jitendra and Saryu Desai and other friends of medicine.

Dr. Jitendra Desai, a urologist, and Dr. Saryu Desai, an anesthesiologist, from Sewickley, Pennsylvania, initiated the ESASID medical scholarship in July 2002.

The scholarship exists to help South Asian Indian medical students who demonstrate academic excellence, but struggle with the escalating costs of a medical education.

It is hoped that, by initiating this medical education fund, others will add to it, enabling more South Asian Indian students to realize their dream of becoming a physician. The fund is endowed and permanently restricted so that interest earnings will always be available to provide scholarships for physician education.
